

Organizations, Congregations, Businesses:
Please support CLBSJ's first online fundraising event on October 5!

“A Celebration of Banned Books and Critical Thinking”

At this event, we will discuss the edgy books and critical thinking traditions that have shaped us as activists and Biblical interpreters. Your sponsorship will support CLBSJ's efforts to extend access to critical biblical engagement, and will provide your group with targeted publicity to our highly engaged audience.

You can sponsor at one of the following levels:

- Partner — $100–$499: We will mention your support in online messaging about the fundraiser
- Promoter — $500–$999: We will mention your support in online messaging about the fundraiser, including links to a website of your choice when possible.
- Advocate — $1000–$2499: We will mention your support in online messaging about the fundraiser, including links to a website of your choice when possible. We will highlight your name verbally during the event on October 5 and in the recording.
- Champion — $2500 and above: We will mention your support in online messaging about the fundraiser, including links to a website of your choice when possible, and we will include your logo in flyers and other media. We will highlight your name and a message of your choice verbally during the event on October 5 and in the recording.

Other ways to support:

- Register to attend the October 5 event, and make a donation of your choosing
- Sign up as a Reader in our linked fundraiser, the “Will Read For Justice” Read-a-thon
- Donate to support a Read-a-thon Reader
- Invite folks in your network to do all of the above

Thank you for considering this request! As an independent organization, CLBSJ relies on the support of like-minded individuals and groups like yours.
